Welcome to the No-Hype Zone

You won't see a lot of hype surrounding the 2015-16 Reynolds Raiders on these pages. The reason? Because this team doesn't need any. You can rest assured that all the pieces are in place for another highly successful season. Call it a quiet confidence.

While I have my own personal expectation level for this team, I hesitate to lay that out here because I think it's possible that those expectations may get surpassed. Yep, this year's Raiders are that good.

As fans of the sport, we have learned that a wrestling season is a journey, filled with obstacles and unexpected twists and turns. I look forward to following the Raiders' journey throughout the 2015-16 season.

ALUMNI GET TOGETHER—Save the dates February 11-13, 2016.

Organized by Chuck Coryea and Brian Hills, a Reynolds Wrestling reunion is being planned to coincide with the state Dual Match championships in Hershey.

The purpose of the reunion is two-fold. One, to help cheer on the Raiders to a state championship; and, two, to get together and spend some time socializing and reminiscing.

The event is open to anyone who is associated with the program including fans, teachers, cheerleaders, wrestlers, mat maids, etc.

Our central hotel and meeting place will be the Comfort Inn & Suites in Grantville, Pa.

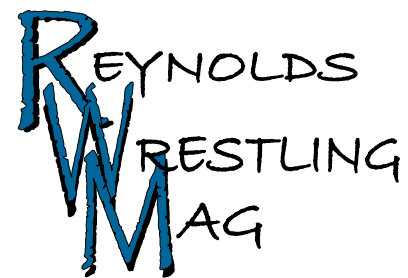

Special events will be planned throughout the extended weekend, including a social hour from 6-11 p.m. Thursday evening (Feb. 11).

You are on your own to make reservations — see pg. 6 for more info — but should mention "Reynolds Wrestling" at the time of the booking to receive a special rate of $79.99. We would love to see you there.

WHERE DO WE START? - We begin the season with Reynolds having an all-time dual match record of 769-91-2. Even with another 20-plus win season the Raiders will not be able to get to 800 this season, that will have to wait.

Coach Casey Taylor begins his fifth season with a record of 87-14. He will certainly get to 100 wins this season and that is an accomplishment we will all celebrate.

Individually, Gage Bayless (73-20) and Cole Rickert (67-20) are in line to join the 100-win Club. Seth Hogue (109) and Gene Ringer (113) are already members.

The Beat Goes On

Raiders Roll into 2015-16 Season with Talent, Experience and an Unrelenting Desire to Excel

BY DON SHAFFER
RWM Editor

Every new season at Reynolds is met with optimism, but once every decade or so a team comes along that creates a heightened level of expectation. The good news for Raider Nation is that those lofty pre-season expectations are about to mesh with reality as the 2015-16 high school wrestling season has finally arrived.

The Raiders roll into the new season riding high on a wave of momentum having won the team points title at the 2015 PIAA Class AA Championships.

Reynolds had seven wrestlers participate in the 2015 state tournament and five return this season, including four who won medals.

"Our goals have been discussed openly and often. To practice with a purpose and get better, become one unit that operates as a family, place Top 10 at Ironman, Top 5 at Powerade, win the Brookville Duals, and, ultimately, win the PIAA Duals title and the PIAA individual tournament," said Raider Coach Casey Taylor, who begins his fifth season with an 87-14 record. "These are goals that are obtainable with everyone contributing in key situations."

"... if we are to meet our goals, it will be done with the 24 of them becoming a family. They will need to push each other in the gym, and be there for one another outside of it. That is something that is preached at RHS and also a chief priority of mine ... I believe they will step up to the challenge."

"I think the team is excited about the opportunity that they have to compete for a dual meet and team state championship," Taylor continued. "The other coaches and I are constantly reminding the team that it is a long season with some of the best competition in the country ahead of us, which will ultimately prepare our team for this year's post-season."

"The coaching staff firmly believes that if we are to meet our goals, it will be done with the 24 of them becoming a family," Taylor said. "They will need to push each other in the gym, and be there for one another outside of it. That is something that is preached at RHS and also a chief priority of mine as the head coach. I believe they will step up to the challenge.”

Cole Matthews, who last season became the third RHS freshman to win a state title, is back for his sophomore campaign. Seth Hogue (2nd), Gene Ringer (6th) and Cole Rickert (7th) also won Hershey hardware.

Seniors Hogue (109-32) and Ringer (113-45) have been elected team captains and both are two-time state medalists.

“To have two guys — Hogue and Ringer — that are 100-plus match winners and more importantly the experience to lead this young team in the right direction is immeasurable,” Taylor said. “Not to mention they have 2 individual medals and 3 team medals each from Hershey to their credit.”

In addition, junior Gage Bayless is a two-time state qualifier. Those five wrestlers will form a stable and formidable nucleus for Coach Taylor to build this year’s team around.

“The five of them know that they will need to lead by example and they are off to a great start in that regard,” Taylor said.

“What excites me the most about having them is their uniqueness. Not one of them wrestles the same style as the other, so they all bring a wealth of experience and different ‘ways of winning’ into our room,” Taylor said.

In addition to the five wrestlers with state-level experience, six others also won letters last season including juniors Chaise Hauck, Joel Leise, Jared Uhrin and Damion Gearhart, and sophomores Ryan Harnett and Ryan Park.

"I look to Leise and Hauck as two more to add to the list of guys who were state qualifiers," Taylor said. "They are terrific young men that have the ability and the work ethic to be very high on the podium in Hershey this year. The experience that Harnett and Uhrin have under their belt is priceless. They certainly add two more battle tested Raiders to our team."

A talented freshman class appears ready for prime time.

"The freshmen are collectively gaining the respect from the upperclassmen. They have hit the ground running and have not backed down," Taylor said. "We will rely heavily on all of them at some point this season and we look for two or three to start right out of the gate."

Freshman Beau Bayless is already a household name across much of Raider Nation and most expect him to be the starter at 106 pounds. Bayless was listed as one of the top incoming freshmen in the state by PA Power Wrestling.

However, Bayless will have to earn his spot and faces a stiff challenge from classmate Rocco Bartolo, who has done nothing but improve and impress in pre-season workouts.

At 113 pounds it looks like freshman Andrew Ischo will be unchallenged. Gage Bayless should win the job at 120 pounds, but he, like

Bartolo, Millero Off to Solid Starts

Mason Beckman

Mike Bartolo

Dylan D'Urso

Mason McCollum

Eight former Reynolds Raiders are competing in college this season. What follows is a summary of how they fared in the month of November.

Clarion true freshman Michael Bartolo ('15) earned the starting varsity spot for the Golden Eagles and is off to a solid start to his college career. Bartolo picked up a major decision and a fall in his first two matches, advancing to the semifinals of the Clarion Open before dropping two straight to finish in fifth place.

At the Eastern Michigan Duals Michael went 2-2 with wins over his opponents from Michigan State and Eastern Michigan. Michael then lost a tight 6-5 decision as Clarion topped Bloomsburg in a dual and posted a win by decision as Clarion fell to Edinboro.

Bartolo finished the month in dramatic fashion winning a come from behind match by scoring back points in overtime as Clarion stunned No. 26 Rider. Clarion's next competition is the PSAC Championships on Saturday Dec. 5.

Waynesburg freshman Mike Millero ('15) is starting at 174 lbs. for the Yellow Jackets. Millero won his college debut by decision in a dual against Shippensburg. Waynesburg then traveled to Kings College where they finished fourth at the Monarch Invitational as Millero went 2-2 and finished one match shy of placing.

After dropping a decision in Waynesburg's loss to West Liberty, Millero had a strong showing at the W&J Invitational going 3-1 and finishing third. Mike finished the month with a dual-match victory as Waynesburg thumped Muskingum. Waynesburg is back in action on Dec. 5 at the Ohio Northern University Invitational.

Mason McCollum ('14), a sophomore at Mercyhurst, got his season off to an excellent start by advancing to the finals of the Mt. Union Invitational before finishing as the runner-up. McCollum will be backing up a returning All-American at 157 pounds for Mercyhurst, which opened the season ranked fourth in the nation.

Edinboro's redshirt sophomore — Austin Matthews ('13) — has yet to get back on the mat as he continues to heal from the injuries that ended his 2015 season.

Austin tells RWM that he does not expect to be back in action until sometime in the second semester. He could potentially make his season debut when the Fighting Scots host George Mason on Jan. 16. The pre-season national rankings had Austin ranked as high as fourth at 157 lbs.

Blake Heim

After qualifying for nationals for Mercyhurst NorthEast his first two seasons, junior Jamar Henry ('13) has transferred to Mercyhurst where he reunites with his former RHS teammates Dylan D'Urso and Mason McCollum.

Jamar opened his season with a solid showing -- finishing sixth at the Mt. Union Invitational. Henry dropped a decision as No. 4 Mercyhurst was upset by #12 Cal Baptist. Look for Henry to be in the starting lineup as Mercyhurst will host the PSAC Championships on Dec. 5.

Redshirt junior and 2014 All-American Dylan D'Urso ('12) opened the season ranked No. 4 at 141 lbs. Dylan advanced to the finals of the Mt. Union Invitational where he dropped a decision to a D-III All-American from Mt. Union. Dylan was held out of the Cal Baptist dual because of injury and is currently being evaluated to determine the exact extent of that injury. It is possible that Dylan could miss up to a month.

Two-time All-American Mason Beckman ('11), a red-shirt senior for Lehigh University, started the season with a rare honor as he was selected to compete in the NWCA All-Star Classic for a third straight season.

Mason, who had split decisions with Edinboro's AJ Schopp in his previous appearances, gave up a takedown in the sudden victory period to drop a tough decision to Michigan's Rossi Bruno.

Mason's regular season got off to an equally frustrating start as he dropped tight decisions in dual matches against Bucknell, Minnesota and Nebraska.

Mason took some time off in Lehigh's duals against Pitt

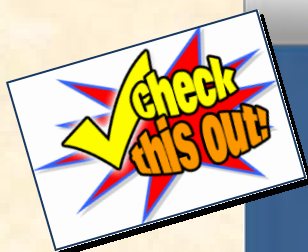

Thiel College senior Blake Heim is off to a 4-1 start and Edinboro in an effort to get back to 100 percent and he'll hope to get his season back on track when Lehigh travels to Rider and Princeton on Saturday Dec. 5. Mason has been ranked as high as No. 3 this season.

Thiel College senior heavyweight Blake Heim ('12) was injured in pre-season workouts but nonetheless began his season with a victory against Mt. Union. Since then, Heim has been used strategically by Coach Craig Thurber.

Heim picked up two pins at the W&J Invitational -- one of them in 8 seconds -- and advanced to the semi-finals before reaching his pre-determined match limit. Heim then went 1-1 at the Mt. Union duals picking up another pin against Heidelberg and dropping a decision against Ferrum.

Thiel returns to action at RIT on Saturday Dec. 5 but Heim tells RWM that he does not expect to be in the lineup. Heim will gear the remainder of his senior season toward the postseason with his ultimate goal reaching the D-III national championships.

his younger brother, will be pushed by a couple of competent challengers in Harnett and sophomore Tylir Shannon, who has improved dramatically.

The heart of the Raiders' lineup - 126, 132 and 138 - looks rock solid as Matthews, Hogue and Hauck are expected to hold down those starting spots. Providing depth in those weight classes is senior Alec Reiter who is a capable backup and will be ready if called upon.

Sophomore Hunter Michaels, who went 2-2 at the varsity level last season and finished third at the PowerAde junior varsity tournament, appears ready to step into a full-time role this year and should get the nod at 145.

The battle at 152 pounds will be a free-for-all with candidates Gearhart, Park, Matthew Gosser, Daniel Blayney and freshman Hunter Thompson all desiring to own the position. Gearhart was injured at last season's Section tournament just when it looked like he was hitting his stride.

Junior Ben Wilcox worked his way into the varsity lineup last season for a couple of matches and is the favorite at 160 pounds, although some of those listed at the 152-pound log jam could possibly bump up to challenge him. Freshman Andrew Herman will back Wilcox but could also step in at 170 if his services are required.

After missing nearly all of last season with an injury, Leise is healthy and will be the man at 170 pounds while Uhrin will be the starter at 182.

A spirited battle will take place for the starting spot at 195 pounds as sophomore Jarod Miller will tangle with talented freshman Derek Skeehan. That match-up is expected to be among the most competitive battles in the practice room.

With both Rickert (220) and Ringer (285) returning the Raiders are set at the top of the lineup. The Rickert-Ringer duo may just be the best 220, 285-pound combination in the state.

With the lineup starting to work itself out, Taylor looks forward to the start of a new season.

"As their coach, I look forward to many things. Practice is a great time to help these guys reach their potential. But in addition, I look forward to bus rides with the guys, the tough competition, and the feeling you get when a Raider reaches their goal or surpasses it. To be able to be a part of it is something very special," Taylor said.

The Raiders' 2015-16 schedule — see page 10 — includes 18 dual matches and two of the toughest in-season tournaments in the country—the Ironman and Powerade.

It all begins on Tuesday, Dec. 8 with a home dual match versus Grove City.

Raiders Draw Top Seed for D-10 Team Tourney

The Reynolds Raiders have earned the top seed for the 2016 District 10 Class AA Team Championships, to be held Saturday, Feb. 6 at Sharon High School.

The Raiders will meet No. 8 seed Cambridge Springs at 9 a.m. This marks the third straight year that the Raiders and Blue Devils will clash in the opening round.

The other match in the top half of the bracket features No. 5 Franklin vs. No. 4 Saegertown.

The two matches on the bottom half of the bracket will be contested at 11 a.m. and those bouts feature No. 3 Fort LeBoeuf vs. No. 6 Conneaut and No. 2 Greenville vs. No. 7 Harbor Creek.

Winners of the morning matches advance to the 3 p.m. semifinals and the championship and consolation finals will be held at 5 p.m.

The District 10 champion receives an automatic berth to the PIAA Class AA Team Championships, set for Feb. 11-13 in Hershey. The runner-up and third place finishers will have wrestle-in matches before heading to the PIAAs.

All Reynolds fans are reminded of the Alumni Reunion while the team is in Hershey for the team championships.

The main event is a party at the meeting room at Comfort Inn & Suites in Grantville, Pa on Thursday. (More information can be found on the back page.) The party will begin at 6 p.m.

You do not have to be an alumni of the program to attend the Thursday night event — only a fan of the program.

If the Comfort Inn fills up and has no vacancy, there are many other hotels in the area to choose from. Find one and stop over at the Comfort Inn Thursday night and find us.

Event organizers Chuck Coryea, Brian Hills and Don Shaffer would love to see you there.

Coach Taylor Wins No. 100 at Brookville

By DON SHAFFER
RWM Editor

BROOKVILLE, Pa. — Coach Casey Taylor chalked up his 100th win and his Reynolds Raiders performed very well against five of the top-ranked teams in the state, carding a 4-1 record at the 20th annual Brookville Ultimate Duals on Saturday, Jan. 16.

Reynolds started the day strong by taking care of a very talented Chestnut Ridge team, 47-18.

Chestnut Ridge took second at last year's PIAA Team Championships and came into the match ranked fourth in the state.

Reynolds dominated from the onset as Damion Gearhart (152), Ben Wilcox (160) and Andrew Ischo (113) picked up key victories along the way.

The Raiders took down back-yard rival Greenville for the second time this season in scoring a 47-19 win in round two.

Gene Ringer (285), Gage Bayless (120) and Cole Matthews (126) had falls to spark the Raiders. Ben Wilcox (160) and Hunter Michaels (145) won by forfeit.

Coach Taylor then picked up his 100th win with a 50-16 triumph over D-10 power Saegertown.

Jarod Miller (195), Rocco Bartolo (113) and Wilcox (160) were among Raiders to shine in the win over the Panthers while Cole Rickert (220), Ringer (285), Ryan Harnett (120), Matthews (126) and Chaise Hauck (132) notched falls.

Next up for the Raiders was a showdown with the top dog out of the WPIAL—Burrell.

Despite Reynolds' big lead early, the Buccaneers battled back to make the final score respectable, at 39-30.

Freshman Rocco Bartolo stepped into the lineup and pitched a 5-0 shutout at 106 pounds, and Ringer (285), Ischo (113) and Matthews (126) had falls. Seth Hogue (138) added a tech fall.

In the final match of a long and grueling day, host Brookville came out firing and scored a pair of early upsets and used that momentum to carry it to a 36-20 win.

Reynolds managed just five wins as Brookville dominated and beat RHS for the third straight time.

In the marquee match of the day, Brookville's Taylor Ortiz—ranked No. 1 at 132 pounds—topped Raider Cole Matthews—ranked No. 1 at 126 pounds.

Joel Leise (170) had the only pin for RHS while Beau Bayless (106) looked strong in avenging a loss from the PowerAde tournament. Reynolds' other winners were Gage Bayless (120), Hauck (138) and Hogue (145).

Hauck and Hogue both went 5-0 to pace the Raiders at Brookville while Gage Bayless was 4-0. Matthews and Ringer were both 4-1 while Beau Bayless, Wilcox and Ischo were 3-1.

Sophomore Cole Matthews leads the Raiders with 24 wins this season

Junior Joel Leise has 17 pins this season—more than any other Raider

Gene Ringer's career win total (133) ranks him tied for 15th in school history

Steve Popovitch's ALUMNI NEWS

Matthews Back in Edinboro Lineup; Heim Calls it a Career

As the calendar flipped to January, the dual meet portion of the college wrestling schedule got into full swing. The following is a rundown of how the Raider alumni fared in the most recent month.

Edinboro's Austin Matthews ('13), out since November 2014 with a knee injury, made his much anticipated return to the line-up when the Scots hosted George Mason. Matthews was in control from the start picking up a 6-1 decision over a quality opponent in Greg Flournoy and the Fighting Scots won, 31-7. Austin then dropped a very exciting decision, in a match that saw the lead change hands several times, to No. 20 ranked Chad Walsh of Rider. Edinboro snuck by for an 18-15 win in the dual. Edinboro returns to action Feb. 4 at Lock Haven.

As announced on the Reynolds Wrestling Mag Facebook page earlier in January, we are saddened that injury has forced Thiel College heavyweight Blake Heim ('12) to call it a career. Blake looks forward to coaching next season—possibly on Thiel's staff.

Mason Beckman ('11) picked up a 5-3 win as Lehigh pounded Navy, 34-3. Mason then lost a tough 4-3 decision to Caleb Richardson of Penn as the Mountain Hawks defeated the Quakers, 27-10. Mason did not compete in Lehigh's 40-6 win over Franklin and Marshall. Instead, he traveled to Millersville to get some work in and went 4-0 to win the Shorty Hitchcock Memorial Open. He dominated the competition there picking up a fall, two technical falls and a 6-1 decision in the finals over American's Joshua Terao.

Mason then received a forfeit victory against Cornell when Lehigh downed the No. 15 Big Red, 25-13. Mason had anticipated wrestling top-ranked Nahshon Garrett, but Garrett was unable to compete due to injury. Lehigh's undefeated month has catapulted them to sixth in the latest national rankings. They next host American University on Feb. 6.

Mike Bartolo ('15) returned to action in January after missing several matches due to injury. He wrestled up a weight (141) against Ohio University and fell by major decision as Clarion lost the dual. A new injury has kept him out of the line up since. Clarion next wrestles at the Edinboro Open on Feb. 6.

Waynesburg started the second semester at the Bud Whitehall Duals in Lycoming. The Yellow Jackets went 3-2 and finished seventh. Their freshman 174-pounder Mike Austin Matthews made his much anticipated return to the Edinboro lineup on Jan. 16 against George Mason.

Millero ('15), went 2-3, with two of his losses coming in overtime. His win against Millikin was impressive, as he bumped up two weight classes to 197 and won a 6-3 decision to clinch the match for his squad.

Millero then dropped a tight 5-2 match to No. 8 ranked Sonnieboy Blanco as Washington & Jefferson squeaked by Waynesburg, 22-21. Mike then dropped a decision when Waynesburg fell to Thiel. The Yellow Jackets return to the mat Feb. 6 when they travel to Baldwin-Wallace for the John Summa Memorial Tournament.

Mercyhurst swept a pair of duals as Jamar Henry ('13) went 1-1 (losing to the eighth ranked 197 pounder), and Dylan D'Urso ('12) picked up a technical fall and 18-4 major decision. Dylan, who is ranked No. 3 in the country at 141 pounds, has been out with an injury since.

Henry went 1-2, as did the No. 4 ranked Lakers, who were far less than 100 percent at the National Duals. Henry's losses came to the No. 4 and No. 5 ranked wrestlers in the country.

Mercyhurst has rebounded from the National Duals losses to win four straight duals. Jamar went 1-3 in those matches with his win being a major decision against East Stroudsburg.

Teammate Mason McCollum ('14) went 1-2 at the Purple Raider Open at 157. Mercyhurst will host Gannon on Feb. 3.

Raiders Notch a Pair of Runner-Up Finishes

The Reynolds Junior High team - without the assistance of any ninth graders - is putting together a very successful season. Even though they are light in numbers, it has not stopped the team from getting the job done.

"We took second place as a team at the Fort LeBoeuf tournament out of 19 teams, and we also placed second at the Northwestern Tournament out of 24 teams," reported junior high head coach Mark Higbee.

In dual matches, the team is currently 7-6; but four of those losses were at the Latrobe Duals where the team was facing some high-level competition.

In addition to Higbee, other members of the Junior High coaching staff are Bill Foore, Chris Walter and Levi Stoyer.

Junior High Individual Records

75-Cole Bayless, 8th grade, 13-1, 11 falls.

85-Liam Foore, 7th grade, 13-3, 4 falls.

ALL-TIME DUAL MATCH RECORD

Raiders Claim 19th Straight Conference Title

Reynolds wrapped up its 19th consecutive conference championship with a 53-12 win over host Franklin on Wednesday, Jan. 27.

"I was impressed with every one of our guys, the losses included. The kids came to wrestle and are showing us that they are ready for the postseason," said Coach Casey Taylor.

Sophomores Hunter Michaels (138) and Jarod Miller (195) had the only pins for RHS and freshman Beau Bayless (106) added a tech fall. Four other Raiders collected wins via forfeit.

Freshman Derek Skeehan (182) had the most impressive win of the night, knocking off Franklin's Ty Emerick, who came into the match with a record of 15-4.

There were other competitive matches, as well. Raider Seth Hogue bumped up to 152 pounds and scored a 5-3 win over Dreux Harper, while Matthew Gosser (145) worked to a 3-0 win over Zack Scharrer.

Ben Wilcox wrestled tough in a 6-2 loss to Ty Carey (160) and Cole Rickert battled hard in a 9-4 loss to nationally-ranked Dakota Geer at 220.

The Raiders closed the regular season at 16-2 overall and 9-0 in District 10 Region I action.

"I'm proud of them for winning another region title," Taylor said. "And now, it's time to focus on the six most important weeks of the season."

Reynolds 57, Sharon 15

Freshman Beau Bayless (106) had the most impressive of Reynolds' six falls, as he built an 8-0 advantage over returning state qualifier Jules Hicklin before getting the stick in the third period.

Andrew Ischo (113), Gage Bayless (120), Chaise Hauck (132), Joel Leise (170) and Gene Ringer (285) also scored falls for RHS (15-2, 8-0).

Seth Hogue (145) added a tech fall and Tylir Shannon (126) and Jarod Miller (195) accepted forfeits. It was the first-ever varsity win for Shannon.

There were several very competitive bouts as Sharon's Giovanni Volpe topped Matthew Gosser 4-0 at 152, and unbeaten Nick McClimans had a 7-3 win over Raider Ben Wilcox at 160. At 182 pounds, a late takedown by Jordan Wilson gave him a 10-8 edge over Raider freshman Derek Skeehan.

"Gosser, Ben and Derek wrestled great in losing efforts. Wow, they wrestled hard," said coach Casey Taylor, who also pointed out the exceptional efforts of (Beau) Bayless, Ischo and Michaels. "Overall, the team looked great," Taylor said.

Raider state champ Cole Matthews (126) missed the match with illness and Damion Gearhart (152) with injury.

Reynolds 71, Mercer 0

Senior Night 2016 was a memorable occasion as Reynolds scored a shutout over visiting Mercer on Wednesday, Jan. 13.

Despite the lopsided score, there were several competitive bouts. At 152, Matthew Gosser battled his way to a 6-5 win over Eric Gawne while Gene Ringer (285) scored two late points to complete a 6-3 win over Bobby Gregory. Chaise Hauck (132) fought off a strong effort from Chris Micsky in a 5-1 win.

Scoring falls for RHS (10-1, 7-0) were Hunter Michaels (145), Ben Wilcox (160), Joel Leise (170), Jarod Miller (195), Beau Bayless (106) and Andrew Ischo (113).

Gage Bayless (120) and Seth Hogue (138) scored major decisions while Derek Skeehan (182), Cole Rickert (220) and Cole Matthews (120) won by forfeit.

Reynolds 61, Sharpville 6

The Raiders looked sharp in their first competition of 2016 — winning 12 of 14 bouts in a conquest of Sharpville on Wednesday, Jan. 6.

"The kids wrestled like they were refreshed and ready to go," said Taylor. "As a team they showed good energy and their conditioning looks to be right on track."

Gage Bayless (120), Cole Matthews (126), Ben Wilcox (160), Joel Leise (170), Gene Ringer (285) and Andrew Ischo (113) all had pins for RHS.

Hunter Michaels (138) added bonus points with a major decision while Andrew Herman (170) and Beau Bayless (106) received forfeits.

In one of the most competitive bouts of the night, junior Chaise Hauck (138) nailed a pair of takedowns to knock off previously-unbeaten Brock Salvatore.

Raider sophomore Jarod Miller (195) wrestled well and seemed to gain confidence as the match went on, dropping a 7-1 decision to Chris Mueller - the top-ranked wrestler in District 10. Damion Gearhart also wrestled tough in dropping a decision to unbeaten Nick Enos at 152 pounds.

TRIVIA CORNER

New Question: What year did Reynolds win its first team state championship?

Previous Question: Who was the first Reynolds wrestler to reach the state finals?

Answer: The first Raider to reach the state finals was Jim Gollner (1966). Gollner finished second, but came back to win a state title as a senior in 1967.

Coach Lineman Honored

Lineman Honored; 800th Win in Sight

Neal Lineman, the man who designed and built the Reynolds Wrestling program from the ground up, was honored on Tuesday, Dec. 20, 2016.

For 16 seasons, from 1961 through 1977, Coach Lineman led the Raiders on a remarkable run in which his teams lost just 10 dual matches. He coached 5 PIAA champions and led the Raiders to the first-ever PIAA team championship in 1976. Twice he was named the Pennsylvania Coach of the Year.

Coach Lineman was honored with a bronze plaque that will be permanently placed outside of the gymnasium — a beautiful tribute to the man who set this program on a path to greatness.

School officials tell me the plaque is expected to be installed prior to the team's home match on Jan. 11, 2017.

800 WINS — Seems like every time we turn around there is something to celebrate within the program. Either that, or we just like to party.

Next up is the school's 800th dual match win which could come as early as Wednesday, Jan. 11 vs. Sharpville.

Now in its 57th season, Reynolds Wrestling closed December with a 797-94-2 all-time record — a winning percentage of 89.3.

NATIONAL RANKING—The Raiders' strong performance at the Ironman Tournament fueled the team's appearance in the Intermat National High School Team Rankings where RHS shows up at No. 28.

Cole Matthews, who finished second at Ironman for the second straight season, and later won the POWERade Tournament, moved all the way up to No. 6 in the 138 pound individual rankings.

JV ALERT— I'm old enough to remember a time when being a junior varsity wrestler at Reynolds was still a pretty big deal. Now, it's no longer a glamorous life.

It's not because the wrestlers are not talented — because they certainly are — its because they get little chance to exhibit those skills.

Case in point: In Reynolds' three December Region I matches, there was just one jayvee match.

The lack of junior varsity action is hurting our program and our sport. Like the minor leagues in baseball this is a place where young wrestlers can define and hone their skills.

I'm not saying the lack of junior varsity competition is the only reason the roster is little thinner these days, but practicing with little chance to compete would be challenging.

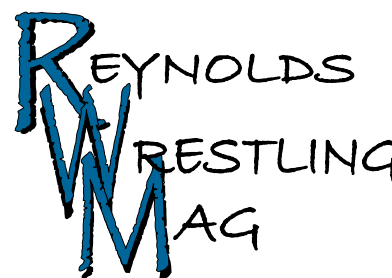

In the current system, elementary and junior high wrestlers see more competition than our jayvee wrestlers do.

I do not believe this is sustainable and it will have a direct impact on how quickly our wrestlers develop. There is no substitute for stepping on a mat and competing. You cannot get that kind of experience in the practice room.

"We are actively looking for opportunities for our junior varsity wrestlers," said Coach Taylor who understands that the lack of competition is a serious issue.

Fortunately, the Canfield Duals and POWERade JV Tournament were a big shot in the arm for our second team wrestlers. But finding similar events is challenging because they just aren't out there.

Matthews 1st Raider to Win PowerAde Title

CANONSBURG, Pa.—Cole Matthews became Reynolds' first PowerAde Tournament champion Friday Dec. 30th, scoring a thrilling 5-4 win in the ultimate tiebreaker period.

As a team, Reynolds finished fifth and Cole was one of three place-winners as senior Gavin Wilkerson finished fourth at 170 pounds and sophomore Beau Bayless was sixth at 113.

Gage Bayless (126), Hunter Michaels (132) and Joel Leise (182) all advanced to Day Two but came up one win short of a place in the Top 8.

"We were fifth place last year, too, but this one feels a little different, a little bit better because we were in the team race all weekend," said

Coach Casey Taylor.

Cole finished second at the 2015 PowerAde but would not be denied this time around. In the semifinals Cole recorded the 100th win of his high school career.

Meanwhile, Gavin continues to do nothing but impress. He nearly stuck his semifinal opponent in the first period but didn't get the fall call and ended up placing fourth.

Gavin and Cole are the only two Raiders to place at both the Ironman and PowerAde this year. Cole and Gene Ringer did it last year.

Beau lost two heart-breakers on Friday—one in the last few seconds and one in overtime—and finished sixth.

Trio of Raiders Earn Honors

Matthews Earns His Second Ironman Medal

By DON SHAFFER
RWM Editor

CUYAHOGA FALLS, OH — Junior Cole Matthews earned his second Ironman medal and seniors Joel Leise and Gavin Wilkerson their first as the Reynolds Raiders opened the 2016-17 season at the Walsh Jesuit Ironman Tournament Dec. 9-10.

Matthews, the No. 1 seed at 138 pounds, worked his way to the championship finals for a second straight season. He wrestled well, finishing as the runner-up, dropping a thrilling 7-5 sudden-victory decision.

Leise had a very productive weekend, posting a 4-2 record with a pair of falls while finishing seventh at 182 pounds.

Wilkerson, making his Reynolds debut, rolled to a 3-3 record while finishing 8th at 170 pounds.

Sophomore Derek Skeehan, wrestling in place of the injured Cole Rickert, also performed very well and survived until day two of the event. He finished with a 2-2 record.

"This is a tough, tough tournament," said coach Casey Taylor. "Anyone who has been here or who has followed it online knows that when you come over here you gotta have your headgear strapped on pretty tight."

"The kids did exactly what we wanted, they competed in all facets and most importantly never gave up ... they showed a lot of fight," Taylor said.

Reynolds' other competitors were: Adam Wilcox (106 pounds, 1-2 record), Beau Bayless (113, 1-2), Andrew Ischo (120, 1-2), Gage Bayless (126, 0-2), Hunter Michaels (132, 0-2), Chaise Hauck (145, 0-2), Matthew Gosser (152, 0-2), Ben Wilcox (160, 0-2), Jarod Miller (195, 0-2) and Wyatt Owen (220, 0-2).

Wilcox scored a fall to pick up his first-ever varsity win.

As a team, the Raiders finished 16th in the team standings with 58 points. Blair Academy won the tournament with 196 points, St. Ed's was second at 127.5.

GROVE CITY -- Reynolds won 13 of 14 individual bouts and rolled to a 72-3 win over Grove City Thursday night in District 10 Region I action at GCHS.

Freshman Bryce McCloskey (182) picked up his first varsity win and was one of seven Raiders to score falls -- six of them in the first period.

Picking up his first career RHS win was sophomore Wyatt Owen (220). He was one of three Raiders to win by forfeit.

The most competitive bout of the night came at 152 where Tyler Greer made a first-period takedown stand up in a 2-1 win over Raider Matthew Gosser. Trailing by one, Gosser rode Greer the entire third period but couldn't get a turn.

At 160, the first period ended scoreless but Ben Wilcox got things rolling with a six-point second period en route to an 8-0 major decision.

Gage Bayless looked very sharp at 126 with a 15-2 win over Cory Bable, one of Grove City's top wrestlers.

Reynolds (1-0, 1-0) will be back in action on Saturday, wrestling three matches at the Canfield Holiday Duals. Grove City is now 3-3, 0-1.

7 Falls, 7 Forfeits in Blanking of Big Reds

The Raiders made short work of the visiting Big Reds in an 84-0 match that featured seven falls and seven forfeits.

Joel Leise (182), Derek

Skeehan (285), Adam Wilcox (106), Andrew Ischo (120), Cole Matthews (138), Hunter Thompson (152) and Gavin Wilkerson (170) had the pins for Reynolds, which improved to 4-0, 2-0.

HERMITAGE— Reynolds won 13 of 14 individual matches in rolling to a 67-3 win over host Hickory in District 10 Region I action on Dec. 22.

The win moved Reynolds to 5-0, 3-0 in the region.

Reynolds opened the match with five straight falls to open a 30-0 advantage.

There were several competitive bouts including 113, 120, 152 and 160.

There were no junior varsity or junior high matches.

Steve Popovitch's ALUMNI NEWS

With the first half of the college wrestling season now in the books, here is a recap of how several former Reynolds Raiders fared leading up to the Christmas break.

Clarion's Mike Bartolo ('15) had the busiest schedule of seven former Raiders wrestling in college.

Mike was the victim of a string of close decisions as he dropped one or two point matches in consecutive duals against Campbell University, American and Eastern Michigan. Clarion then traveled to the prestigious Cliff Keen Las Vegas Invitational where Bartolo went 1-2.

Mike finished with the same record at the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference (PSAC) Championships before getting pinned by nationally-ranked Patricio Lugo in a dual with Edinboro before winter break.

Clarion resumes action with duals against Davidson and Appalachian State, at Davidson on Jan. 8.

Edinboro was also at Las Vegas where redshirt junior Austin Matthews ('13) had a strong showing.

Three consecutive victories, including a 7-3 decision over No. 4 seed Kenton Subjek of Stanford in the quarterfinals advanced Austin to the semifinals where he was bested by returning NCAA finalist Isaac Jordan of Wisconsin.

Austin bounced back by topping the No. 6 seed -- Brandon Womack of Cornell -- before dropping a decision to Wyoming's Brandon Ashworth to finish fourth.

Austin did not compete at the PSAC championships, a dual match with Clarion or the Southern Scuffle. Edinboro's next match is set for Jan. 7 at Bloomsburg.

Bucknell freshman Seth Hogue ('16) wrestled in the Navy Classic where he picked up his first collegiate win -- an 8-7 decision over Kent State's Nico O'Dor. That advanced him to the quarterfinals where he fell to the tournament's eventual champion Shaid Karbo of George Mason. Seth then defaulted out of the tournament for precautionary reasons.

Seth returned to action and put together a strong showing at the Cleveland State Open. Consecutive victories to open the tournament advanced Seth to the semifinals before eventually finishing fourth. Bucknell will host Franklin & Marshall on Jan. 10.

Freshman Cam Cianci ('13) saw his first collegiate action for the Thiel Tomcats getting a match at the Mount Union Duals where he dropped a decision to the host's Jake Taylor.

Thiel travels to Waynesburg on Jan. 7 for the Waynesburg Invitational where we hope to see the 2016-17 debut of the Yellow Jackets sophomore Mike Millero ('15). After winning the wrestle-off for the starting spot, Mike decided to take the first semester off to concentrate on academics.

It did not appear as though Mercyhurst's Jamar Henry ('13) or Mason McCollum ('14) saw action for the Lakers in the month of December.

Mercyhurst returns to action on Jan. 5-6 at the National Duals in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Matthews is 37th Raider to Reach 100 Wins

Cole Matthews became the 37th Reynolds High School wrestler to win 100 career matches with a 5-1 win over Carnell Andrews of Bishop McCort in the POWERade Tournament semifinals.

Cole was 43-6 as a freshman, 44-5 as a sophomore and through the end of December this season is 14-1. That puts his career record at 101-12.

Cole won a PIAA title as a freshman and finished third as a sophomore.

He is currently ranked sixth in the country at 138 pounds.

Taylor's Troops Take Two at Canfield

CANFIELD, Ohio -- The Reynolds Raiders made the best of a weather-shortened Canfield Holiday Duals by posting a pair of impressive wins on Saturday, Dec. 17.

The Raiders topped Akron St. Vincent St. Mary's in the opening match, 55-9, before besting host Canfield, 46-23, in the finale.

Reynolds was supposed to wrestle three matches but Dover, Ohio opted to stay home due to a wintry mix of snow, rain, sleet and freezing rain. The messy weather caused the event to start one hour late and it ended earlier than expected because there were less matches contested.

A host of Raiders — Adam Wilcox (106), Beau Bayless (113), Andrew Ischo (120), Gage Bayless (126), Hunter Michaels (132), Cole Matthews (138), Chaise Hauck (145) and Gavin Wilkerson (170) — all went 2-0. Matthews had a pair of falls.

Michaels had a nice win over a state-ranked opponent vs. SVSM, and Ben Wilcox put forth his best effort in losing by major dec. to a nationally ranked wrestler from Canfield.

Freshman Bryce McCloskey won five straight matches — four of them by fall — to capture a PowerAde JV Tournament title on Wednesday, Dec. 28.

McCloskey (170) was one of three Raiders to place as Ryan Harnett (132) finished second and Rocco Bartolo (126) was third.

Reynolds' other entries were Cole Bayless (106), Tylir Shannon (138), Evan Miller (220), Xavier Cowburn (220) and Eddie Hammons (285).

Raiders Finish Third

Wasn't That a Party?

Reynolds Wrestling Alumni Reunion a Smashing Success

When Chuck Coryea, Brian Hills, Paula Rickert and I started putting together plans for the Reynolds Wrestling Alumni Reunion at team states we had a lot more questions than we had answers.

As it turned out, we could not have been more pleased with the end product.

We had wrestlers and coaches from every era of Reynolds Wrestling ranging from Frank Fenton (a team captain for Neal Lineman's first team back in 1961-62) to 176-match winner and four-time state place-winner Lawrence Beckman ('07).

Some folks just stopped in to say hello and shake a few hands while others stayed up until 3:30 a.m. to relive their glory days.

My personal takeaway — and the thing I'm most proud of — is that I believe we succeeded in making a new memory to go along with all the great memories we already shared.

Reynolds Wrestling is a great common denominator. Our past, our present and our future is something that we are all be proud of. Getting together and talking about that is a good thing.

I'd like to say thank you to everyone who came and was part of a very special event, and of course to Chuck, Brian and Paula for making it happen.

One final note concerning the reunion as it relates to finances. We spent $100 on the room rental and just under $200 on pizza. We collected $295 in donations which means the event paid for itself almost down to the penny.

I don't think there is any doubt that we will host a similar event in the future.

Raiders Finish Third at PIAA Team Tourney

By DON SHAFFER
RWM Editor

HERSHEY— Another trip to the PIAA Class AA Team Championships — another Top 3 finish for the Reynolds Raiders.

For the fourth straight season and for the 10th time in school history, Reynolds has proven to be one of the top dual match teams in the state.

The Raiders posted a 4-1 record in Hershey to finish the season with an overall record of 23-3. The Raiders' lone loss at the state tournament came in the semifinals to eventual state champion Brookville by a score of 29-27. None of its four wins were close.

Reynolds posted winner's bracket wins over Southern Columbia (44-22) on Thursday morning and Huntingdon (45-18) on Friday morning, before falling to Brookville in the championships semifinals Friday night.

The Raiders rebounded with back-to-back wins on Saturday over Montoursville (42-21) and Boiling Springs (45-21) to finish third.

Beau Bayless (106), Cole Matthews (126) and Joel Leise (170) all had pins against Boiling Springs. Seth Hogue (145) added a tech fall and Chaise Hauck (132) won his match by major decision.

"To summarize against Boiling Springs, they outwrestled us in the beginning and our kids came through in the end and got the job done," said Coach Casey Taylor.

"It is very satisfying to be the coach of this team and to have the support that we had down here ... and the fight that we had down here from the guys. I'm very happy with them. To be able to put another big trophy in the show case and wrap 25 medals around these kids' necks is tremendous. I couldn't be happier."

Reynolds has not only qualified for the state duals for 12 straight seasons, but it has brought home 10 medals during that span. The Raiders' PIAA medal count now includes three golds, four silvers and three bronze.

Reynolds Qualifies 6 for Junior High States

The Reynolds junior high team took part in the Area VI state qualifying tournament on Sunday (2/28) at Mercer High School and turned in some impressive results -- qualifying six wrestlers for the upcoming PAJW Junior High State Championships.

Cole Bayless (77), Adam Wilcox (102), Jordan DeCarmen (132) and Bryce McCloskey (157) all finished first. Cole Toy (147) won four matches, including a bout for true second. Alex Ischo (117) finished third and Liam Foore (87) was fourth. The Raiders' other entry was Lee Walter (107).

The Top 3 finishers in each weight class earned a trip to Junior High States -- scheduled for this Saturday and Sunday (March 5-6) at the Cambria County War Memorial in Johnstown.

Cole Rickert will likely be the next Raider to reach 100 career wins

Steve Popovitch's ALUMNI NEWS

It was another busy month for the group of former Reynolds Raiders now participating at the collegiate level.

Waynesburg University freshman Mike Millero ('15) received a bye and won by technical fall to advance to the quarterfinals of the John Summa Invitational, before a pair of decision losses eliminated him from the tournament. Mike then finished 2nd, as did the Yellow Jackets, at the President's Athletic Conference (PAC) Championships. Mike's season ended with a 2-2 finish at the Mideast Regional Tournament, where the top three finishers qualified for the NCAA D-III National Championships. Mike finished his first season at Waynesburg with 18 victories -- an impressive total.

Jamar Henry ('13) started February with a trio of dual meets. He dropped tight decisions against Gannon and Pitt-Johnstown, but played the role of hero in a dramatic win against Findlay. With the Lakers holding a slim 17-16 lead, Jamar came up clutch, pinning his opponent and sealing the win for his team. The win also avenged a loss from earlier in the season for Jamar.

He then went 2-2 at the D-II East Super Regional, where the top four qualified for Nationals. After competing at Mercyhurst North East for two years, Jamar finished with 15 wins in his first season as a Laker.

Jamar's Mercyhurst teammate, Dylan D'Urso ('12) recently had season-ending surgery. Dylan, a former All-American, was limited to just eight matches this season -- posting a record of 7-1. He now owns a career record of 70-11 and will have one year of eligibility remaining.

Injury also claimed the season of Clarion freshman Michael Bartolo ('15). Michael earned the starting spot for the Golden Eagles this season and wrestled well. Injuries slowed him to the point where he wrestled only one match in the second semester. He finishes his first season with a 7-8 record.

Mercyhurst sophomore Mason McCollum ('14) went 2-2 and was one match away from placing at the Jamestown Community College Open. Mason competed at 157 lbs.

Senior Mason Beckman ('11) picked up a forfeit win in Lehigh's win over American University. He then fell to No. 5 Jordan Conaway as Lehigh fell to top ranked Penn State.

Mason was impressive on Senior Night as he won by major decision while the Mountain Hawks blanked Bloomsburg.

The NCAA Division I Wrestling Championships are scheduled for March 17-19 at New York City's Madison Square Garden.

Lehigh was then invited to compete in the NWCA National Duals Series, where they fell 18-17 to Rutgers. Mason was dominant in his match with a 19-7 major decision.

Mason will enter the EIWA Championships with 98 career wins. The tournament is scheduled for March 5-6 and will be hosted by Princeton University. Mason will look to earn his fourth trip to the NCAA Championships. The EIWA Championships will be streamed live by Flowrestling.

Edinboro clinched their third straight EWL title with a recent win over Lock Haven. Redshirt sophomore Austin Matthews ('13) won 6-1 in the dual.

Austin then went 3-0 at the Edinboro Open, before being pulled entering the quarterfinals when he met his predetermined match limit. Matthews dominated in a 15-3 major decision when Edinboro fell to Virginia Tech. He then held a lead entering the second period against No. 9 ranked Luke Smith of Central Michigan, before being reversed to his back and pinned.

Austin picked up a decision against Kent State and then dropped a pair of tight matches against ranked opponents. He fell to WVU's No. 17 Dylan Cottrell 4-1 and Ohio State's No. 10 Jake Ryan 4-3.

Austin will look to earn his second trip to the NCAA Championships when Edinboro competes in the EWL Championships at Lock Haven on March 5th.

The NCAA Championships will be held at New York City's Madison Square Garden March 17-19. The ESPN networks will air all rounds of this year's tournament. If things go well we could see a pair of former Raiders competing in NYC to close out the collegiate season.

SHARON — The Reynolds Raiders earned their fourth straight District 10 Class AA Team Title with a heart-pounding, 32-29, triumph over Fort LeBoeuf on Saturday, Feb. 6 at Sharon High School.

Reynolds has won 11 of the last 12 D-10 tournaments and 14 in the 18 year history of the event.

The Raiders' day began with a 60-12 win over Cambridge Springs in the quarterfinal round. One of the best bouts of the match came at 220 pounds where a pair of returning state medalists locked horns. Raider Cole Rickert emerged a 4-3 winner over Zach Stafford after the ultimate tiebreaker period.

In the semifinals, Reynolds topped Saegertown, 50-22. Reynolds trailed early in this match, 19-0, but rallied to win nine of the last 10 matches. Seth Hogue (138) turned in one of the most impressive wins with a major decision over Saegertown stud Jude Mattocks.

Reynolds needed all its weapons to hold off Fort LeBoeuf in a championship match that was not decided until the final bout — a fall by Hogue.

SHARON— Beau Bayless (106), Gage Bayless (120), Cole Matthews (126), Chaise Hauck (132), Hunter Michaels (138), Seth Hogue (145) and Joel Leise (170) all won individual titles as Reynolds cruised to its 22nd straight Section team title, outpointing runner-up Hickory by more than 100 points.

"We're proud to say that we have seven Section champions," said Coach Casey Taylor.

"When half of your teams wins a Section title, that's something to be proud of."

In winning his fourth Section title, Hogue joins an exclusive club of four-timers that includes just a dozen Raiders.

"I remember when he was just a little pipsqueak, and got that first one at 106, and now winning this one at 145 ... he's adjusted to the weight very well," Taylor said, adding, "(Seth) did a great job of leading the team this weekend."

Jarod Miller (195), Cole Rickert (220) and Gene Ringer (285) finished second for the Raiders while Andrew Ischo (113) and Derek Skeehan (182) were third and Ben Wilcox (160) fourth.

Freshman Hunter Thompson (152) posted a 2-2 record with a pair of falls. Both of his losses were by one point, including one of them to the tournament's top seed.

The 13 Raiders who placed at the tournament earned the right to advance to the District 10 Class AA Championships.

Reynolds won the tournament with 272.5 points, followed by Hickory with 171. Sharon (146.5) was third, Franklin (108) fourth and Lakeview (106) fifth.

SHARON — Gene Ringer (285), Seth Hogue (145) and Cole Matthews (126) won their second District 10 individual titles and Beau Bayless (106) and Chaise Hauck (132) their first as the Reynolds Raiders rolled to their fourth straight team title and the 22nd in school history.

Reynolds qualified 11 wrestlers for the Northwest Regional while scoring 216.5 team points to finish ahead of Greenville (158.5) and Fort LeBoeuf (148). Saegertown (94) and Sharon (82) rounded out the Top 5.

Reynolds' other place-winners included runner-up Joel Leise (170) and third-place finishers Gage Bayless (120), Hunter Michaels (138) and Cole Rickert (220). Andrew Ischo finished fourth at 113 pounds and Jarod Miller was sixth at 195.

Two Raiders — junior Ben Wilcox (160) and freshman Derek Skeehan (182) - were entered in the tournament but were unable to secure a spot in the top six.

5 Raiders Earn Medals, Team Finishes 4th

By DON SHAFFER
RWM Editor

HERSHEY—Five Reynolds wrestlers brought home hardware from the 2016 PIAA Class AA Championships as senior Seth Hogue (145) earned his third medal, sophomore Cole Matthews (126) and junior Cole Rickert (220) claimed their second and junior Chaise Hauck (132) and freshman Beau Bayless (106) each grabbed their first.

Reynolds entered the tournament with seven qualifiers and the team finished fourth in the standings.

Junior Joel Leise (171) and sophomore Hunter Michaels (138) also qualified for the state tournament.

Matthews, a 2015 state champion, was the top-placing Raider (3rd). He was beaten in the semifinals by the eventual champion but despite that setback rebounded to win two matches, beating a past state champion in his consolation final.

“Our guys prepared well and wrestled well,” said Coach Casey Taylor. “But what I am probably even more proud of is the way they handled adversity when it came their way. I think that anybody who is a Reynolds fan, or a fan of wrestling for that matter, should be proud of the way these kids acted when they came off the mat following some very tough moments.”

Matthews finished his season with more wins than any one on the team (44) and is now 87-11 in his high school career. He was second on the team with 26 falls.

Bayless also advanced to the semifinals before finishing fourth. He lost only to the second and third-place finishers while completing a robust 38-9 freshman campaign.

Finishing fifth, Hogue ends his high school career as one of the most highly decorated Raiders ever - winning three individual PIAA medals and four PIAA team medals. (Seth was one win from placing at states as a freshman.)

"I'm real proud of seven medals. I doubt many kids in this gym (Giant Center) have as many medals from the state tournament as I do, And, 149 wins, that's a pretty good number, I guess," said Hogue, who has pledged to wrestle at Bucknell University.

Rickert, who hit a mid-season slump, fought through that adversity to end up on the podium in Hershey for the second time. Rickert lost his consolation final

Steve Popovitch's ALUMNI NEWS

Mason Beckman's Letter to Raider Nation

Raider Nation,

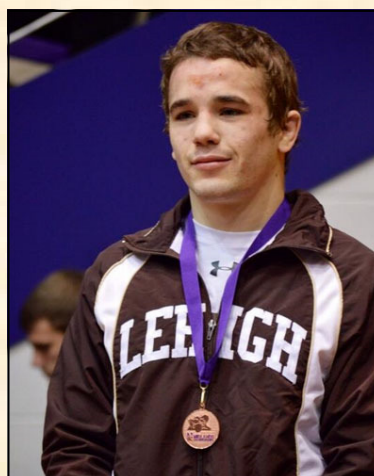

As I sit here and try to get used to life as a retired wrestler, I want to thank all of you for helping make my career such an incredible journey. Although I haven't put on a Reynolds singlet since March of 2011, I still carried the blue and gray in my heart every single time I stepped on the mat regardless of where I was. I'm not exactly sure where to start with the specific thank you's, but I'm just going to dive right in and see where we end up.

I guess it makes sense to start at the beginning of my career and thank all of the coaches I had in my time at the elementary level. Coach Foore, D'Urso, Stoyer, Reagle, Kulka, Dawes, and Co. are all people I wish I could thank in person, but I hope this will do for now. Each one of you guys helped me grow not just as a wrestler, but as a person even on the days when I really did not want to. You taught me lessons even as a young kid that I still carry with me today, and for that I thank you. Some of the funniest memories of my life come from those days and the stupid things I did in my downtime either at practice or at youth tournaments, but I'll save those stories (and the ensuing embarrassment) for another day.

I want to thank those Reynolds wrestlers that came before me and set the bar as high as can be both on and off the mat. I can still remember being seven or eight years old, sitting in the gym at Sharon, telling my dad that I wanted to be just like Steve Popovitch or the Nestor brothers. I remember watching practice up at the high school and being amazed at how hard Aaron Nestor ran every sprint, or how fiercely Matt Dunn fought for every inch even in a seemingly meaningless practice match. I remember hearing the crowd chant Sammy Fuchs' name going into OT of his match for third and fourth at regionals his freshman year after Hubbard inexplicably let him off his back with five seconds left in regulation. I remember hearing the crowd go ballistic after Ryan Foust knocked off Showers (I think that was his name) from Union City to go to states his senior year. Matt Dunn smashing the field at PIAA's to end his career, the team known as "Murderer's Row," Justin Nestor taking out his frustration on those cones at Phillipsburg, Nick Sommerfeld eating Casey's pizza and replacing it with...something warm, Coach Reichard coming up with nicknames for every member of our team...the memories are absolutely endless. But what is true of the people around which the stories are centered is that those guys were, and still are, the best role models a kid could have ever asked for. I want to thank each one of you guys for giving me some amazing people to look up to.

Not every memory I have from my years at Reynolds is a happy one, though. I'll never forget watching the final seconds tick away in overtime in the state finals my freshman year or those losses we suffered in the state duals. But the thing of it is, those moments might be what makes our program truly special because we never dwelled on them and allowed them to define us. We always picked ourselves up, got pissed off, and came back the next time swinging even harder than we did the first. As Coach Hills always loved to say, "You have to be a junkyard dog out there!" And really, this program taught me how to fight and bounce back from anything that life threw my way, which is a lesson that I value far more than any match that I ever won or lost.

The coaches, the team, and the surrounding community has always found a way to be resilient and gain strength from one another and that's a huge part of the reason that Raider Nation is such an incredible group. I can remember the pep talks that Hills, Casey, and Coach Reichard gave us in the locker room after tough losses. They were always short and to the point, but the message was always the same in the end: we will be back, and we will be even better for having gone through this trial. If that doesn't sum up our program and community, I don't know what does.

I need to thank the coaching staff from my high school years. Coach Hills, Casey, Mike, Coach Reichard, and my dad...you guys were one of the best high school staffs in America and you always found a way to get more out of us than we ever knew possible. Coach Hills, you will always be the most incredible motivator I have ever encountered. You made us believe in ourselves, the program, and everything we learned in the room. I still think back to some of your speeches any time I need a little extra motivation to get through the day, and I want to thank you for always pushing us further. Casey, you were one of the only people that I could talk to who I knew understood the pressures and feelings I dealt with every day. The talks we had and the advice you gave me are something I will cherish for the rest of my life and may have been some of the most crucial moments in my development as a person. Thanks, Case. Mike, nobody has ever made me laugh harder on a daily basis than you did. You always kept things light and kept us in good spirits even when we were sucked out, beat up, and in the dog days of the season. Without you, I'm pretty sure I wouldn't have smiled once while I was making 103 my freshman year. Thanks for everything, man. Coach Reichard, you are the single most underrated coach I've ever been around. You did so much for each and every one of us and the program as a whole that I could dedicate an entire letter just to you. You came in early to do technique, you let us wear your shoes for tournaments, and you even drove me up to Ithaca to take an unofficial visit to Cornell. Your guidance and friendship are a couple of my most valued takeaways from my time in the program. Thanks, Coach.

Dad, I can tell you all of this in person so I won't drag it out on here and force myself into tears any quicker than I have to. I will say thank you, though. For everything. For forcing me to understand that wrestling was what I did, not who I was. For always putting our relationship as father and son before anything related to wrestling. For still being in my corner for every match and every step I take in life. You might be off your rocker, but I love you to death and it's because of you that I am the person I am today. Thanks, dad.

From the coaches to my teammates! I was surrounded by a number of different guys over my four years as a part of the high school program and each one deserves a thank you. You guys made every day a blast and I couldn't have accomplished anything I have without you. There are a few specific guys that I really need to thank: Dylan D'Urso, Adam and Austin Matthews, Luke Taylor, and Dillon Babcock. Dylan, you were one of the best workout partners I ever had from the time we were both eight years old and you pushed me to greater heights in every way. It's been so much fun to watch you succeed at the college level and I know you'll win your title next year once you get yourself healed up. Thanks for everything, bud. Adam, you started out as one of my rivals and ended up one of my best friends and teammates. Crazy, right? From all the time we spent together after school and in the summers to the battles we had in the room, you helped me stay sane and grow as a person and wrestler every day. Thanks for everything, man. Austin, you've been one of my best friends from the time we were in elementary school and I'm incredibly thankful to have had such a great person by my side all the time. You're a huge part of everything I've been able to do in life and I love you to death, kid. Thanks for everything. Luke! Not even sure where to start this one, but suffice to say that you too will be one my best friends for as long as I live. You always had more faith in me than I had in myself and I just wanna thank you for making all of those memories with me over the years. Truth be told, you're still one of my role models in life. Thanks for everything, big man. Dillon, I really need to thank you for putting up with me every night in practice for all those years and for being the best drill partner in the land. I couldn't have asked for a more selfless partner or friend, and I want to thank you for everything.

I have to thank Don Shaffer for all that he does as the Reynolds Wrestling super fan as well. I know I told you all of this in person Saturday, so I'll keep it as short as possible and just say thanks for absolutely everything, Shaf. You do great things for this program and I love you, man. The words of wisdom you gave me this past fall when I was really struggling helped me see the light on the other side, and I will be forever grateful.

The last person I need to thank is T. For anyone who doesn't know, that's John Tofani. You were one of my biggest fans from the first time I stepped into the high school as a junior high kid and your support to this day has meant the world to me. You always looked out for me in school, on the mat, and in life. I never said this to you enough, but I love you to death, T. Thanks for everything.

To the rest of Raider Nation, thank you for an amazing ride. I hope you all enjoyed watching it as much as I enjoyed being out there for the past eighteen years. I miss suiting up for the blue and gray every day, but I really hope you all know that I had you guys in my heart every time I laced 'em up. They say that we are all a product of our environment, and I really believe that to be true. I'm just incredibly thankful to have been blessed with the most incredible environment and community of people on earth.

As I walk away from the competitive side of my career, I just wanted to thank all of you one last time for everything you did for me. You guys are the best, and I will always be a Raider. Thank you again, Raider Nation.

Always A Raider,

for seventh place in the tiebreaker. With 30 wins this year, Rickert now stands at the century club doorstep with a career mark of 97-38.

Reynolds' other place-winner was Hauck who was forced to win three straight consolation bouts after dropping a 3-2 decision in the opening round. Chaise was 3-3 in Hershey to close out a 36-10 season. He is now 86-41 in his career.

Leise tied the RHS single-season pin record and came within a whisker of breaking the mark before bowing out of the tournament with a 2-2 record. Both of his wins in Hershey came via fall and Leise ended an impressive junior season with a 38-10 record, including 29 pin wins. His opening-round loss was to the eventual state champion.

Michaels, a sophomore, proved he belonged in Hershey by winning a match and going 1-2. As a freshman, Michaels was 2-2 in limited varsity time, but he excelled in his first full varsity season -- especially after settling into the proper weight class. He finished his season with a 25-15 record with 14 of those wins resulting in bonus points for his team.

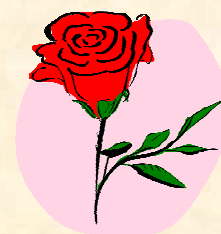

Farewell to Our Friend

Bette "Becky" Matthews, mother of Curt, and grandmother of Adam, Austin and Cole Matthews died on April 1, 2016

We are so very proud to say that Becky was a beloved member of the Reynolds Wrestling family.

Our deepest sympathy to the Matthews family. They are in our hearts and minds and in our prayers.

2016 Northwest Regional Team Champions

Raiders Win 4th Straight NWR Team Title

By DON SHAFFER
RWM Editor

SHARON - Reynolds won the Class AA Northwest Regional team points title for a fourth straight season and earned the right to advance half its team - seven wrestlers - to the PIAA Class AA Championships.

The team points race could not have been tighter as RHS edged Brookville 135-131. Greenville was third with 90 points, Fort LeBoeuf (84.5) was fourth and Brockway (48) finished fifth.

Freshman Beau Bayless (106) and sophomore Cole Matthews (126) were tournament champions. Chaise Hauck (132), Seth Hogue (145) and Joel Leise (171) were second while Hunter Michaels (138) and Cole Rickert (220) were third. Hogue qualified for his fourth state tournament.

"Taking seven kids to states, you're taking half your team and you have to be happy with that," said coach Casey Taylor. "The kids all wrestled hard. The kids that qualified did an excellent job and the kids that didn't really fought hard and they tried their best and that's really all we ask."

The Raiders entered 11 wrestlers and four -- Andrew Ischo (113), Gage Bayless (120), Jarod Miller

(195) and Gene Ringer (285) -- were unable to advance. Bayless and Ringer were both seeking their third trips to states.

Ringer, a senior co-captain, closes out an outstanding high school career in which he became just the fifth Reynolds wrestler to compete in more than 200 matches. His 145 wins rank him 11th on the all-time Raider list. He was a two-time Ironman place-winner and a two-time PIAA place-winner.

Of Reynolds' seven PIAA qualifiers, only Hogue is a senior.

Berger, Wagner Earn Medals at PJW States

Reynolds wrestlers Kaeden Berger (4th) and Jalen Wagner (7th) earned medals at the 2016 Pennsylvania Junior Wrestling State Championships in Erie.

After suffering a loss in his first match, Kaeden (11-12, 95 pounds) battled back to win five straight to reach the consolation finals.

Jalen (9-10, 95) also wrestled a very strong tournament and won three matches along the way.

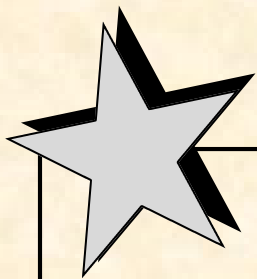

Other Raiders to qualify for the PJW State Championships and their results include:

- Santino Gentile, 9-10 age division, 75 pounds, 1-2 record.
- Brayden McCloskey, 9-10, 90, 2-2.
- Ava Bayless, 11-12, 80, 0-2.
- Dreyvin Livingston, 11-12, 90, 0-2.

TRIVIA CORNER

New Question: Can you name the four Reynolds wrestlers who have gone on to become NCAA Division I All-Americans?

Previous Question: What is the last team to win a Section team title other than Reynolds?

Answer: Mercer won the Section team points title in 1994. Since then, Reynolds has rolled to 22 straight Section championships.
